

Kids of all ages learn all styles of dancing at Manly Vale's Bradford Dance Academy.

2008 the year to get feet tapping

GET your body moving in a fun and creative way through hip-hop, cheerleading, funk, tap or jazz styles of dance.

Or you may prefer the more structured styles of contemporary or R.A.D. ballet or maybe some singing or drama classes; either way, the Bradford Dance Academy in Manly Vale now offers it all.

The director of the school, Nicole Bradford, is a local with more than 20 years of teaching experience. She has choreographed many professional projects over the years, including Foxtel Productions, the closing ceremony of the 2004 Rugby World Cup and the finale of Channel 10's Big Brother 07 and draws upon these experiences in her routines for the school.

Due to demand, the Bradford Dance Academy has expanded its timetable for 2008, offering classes on Mondays, Thursdays and now Saturdays.

As a mother of two young girls, Ms Bradford has carefully researched parent needs in providing this class.

Also on Saturday, there will be adult classes as well as junior and senior stage classes. The stage class is highly selective and is available only through successful audition.

The Bradford Dance Academy runs classes in both the Manly Vale Community Centre, Lovett St, and the Kindy Hall, Innes Rd.
